

user-centred approach

forming intuitions of system complexity and functionality use perceptible properties

Non judgmental

Poietic design

Transparent and honest representation of functionality translate the imperceptible into perceptible data immediate feedback

formative approach